A spokesman for the Department of Justice (DoJ) today (May 6) announced the publication of the latest edition of "The Judge Over Your Shoulder - A Guide to Judicial Review for Administrators" (JOYS) at the DoJ's website (www.doj.gov.hk/eng/public/The_Judge_Over_Your_Shoulder.html).

"The fourth edition of JOYS is released today. This latest edition considers a number of major developments in the law of judicial review since the publication of the last edition in 2019. It is hoped that the publication will continue to facilitate a better understanding of the principles relating to good governance and administration," the spokesman said.

"The latest edition of JOYS is now available on the DoJ's website in English and Chinese versions. The legal sector and those who wish to understand more about judicial review, which is an integral part of the Hong Kong legal system, may wish to make reference to it," the spokesman continued.
