

Panel on Administration of Justice and Legal Services
(the "Panel")

Meeting on Monday, 25 June 2018

Implementation of the recommendations made by the Law Reform Commission ("LRC")

Background

The reporting mechanism introduced by the Panel in 2012 aims to facilitate members of the Panel, as well as other Panels of the Legislative Council ("LegCo"), to follow up on progress of implementation of the LRC's recommendations by the relevant bureaux and departments. This is the Secretary for Justice ("SJ")'s sixth report to the Panel pursuant to this mechanism.

2. In line with the approach adopted for the SJ's second report made to the Panel in 2014, the table annexed to this report lists the LRC's recommendations under different categories according to their implementation status (the "Table"), ie:

- (a) proposals implemented in full;
- (b) proposals implemented in part;
- (c) proposals under consideration or in the process of being implemented;
- (d) proposals rejected by the Government;
- (e) the Government has no plan to implement the proposals at this juncture.

3. The information on implementation status which appears in this report is as provided to the LRC by the individual bureaux and departments concerned (as set out in the Table).

Highlights of progress made since SJ's last annual report to the Panel

4. The following paragraphs seek to highlight the more significant developments advised by the relevant bureaux and departments since SJ's last annual report to the Panel:

- (a) Insolvency – Part 2: Corporate rescue and insolvent trading (October 1996) (see item 44 in the Table)

The Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau ("FSTB") announced a package of legislative proposals for the introduction of a statutory corporate rescue procedure and insolvent trading provisions in 2014 and received broad support of the Financial Affairs Panel of LegCo and relevant stakeholders to the legislative exercise.

FSTB issued the Drafting Instructions and will continue to engage relevant stakeholders throughout the drafting stage. The target is to introduce the bill into LegCo within the 2018/19 legislative session.

- (b) Guardianship and custody – Part 4: Child custody and access (March 2005) (see item 49 in the Table)

In consultation with the Department of Justice ("DoJ"), the Home Affairs Bureau, the Social Welfare Department, the Judiciary and other relevant Government bureaux/departments, the Labour and Welfare Bureau ("LWB") has prepared the draft Children Proceedings (Parental Responsibility) Bill (the "proposed legislation") to follow up on the majority of the LRC's recommendations. On 25 November 2015, LWB launched a four-month public consultation on the proposed legislation. LWB reported results of the consultation to the LegCo Panel on Welfare Service ("Welfare Panel") in May 2017.

The results showed that the percentage of views in support of the implementation of the proposed legislation at this stage was about the same as that opposing it (i.e. 34.5% on each side), while another 20% of the views considered the proposed legislation worthy of support in principle, but requested additional resources and support measures as a prerequisite. Besides, LWB also noted that two motions were unanimously passed by the Welfare Panel on 22 February 2016 and 8 May 2017 respectively, requesting the Government not to introduce the proposed legislation into LegCo at this stage, pending the provision of more support measures for divorcing/divorced/separated families. Similar requests were also raised by deputations at the special meeting of the Welfare Panel held on 4 October 2017.

Having regard to the views collected during the public consultation and the Welfare Panel's position, LWB proposed at the Welfare Panel meeting on 12 March 2018 not to introduce the proposed legislation into LegCo at this stage. However, LWB proposed to, as a matter of priority, increase resources in 2018-19 to strengthen measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families, so as to promote the concept of continuing parental responsibility towards children even after divorce, and strengthen co-parenting counselling and parenting coordination service, as well as making the Pilot Project on Children Contact Service a regular service of the Social Welfare Department with service expansion.¹ As soon as the enhanced measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families have been implemented, LWB will consult the stakeholders again on the proposed legislation, and gauge their receptiveness to the legislative proposal, especially the views of those who have put service improvements as a prerequisite to legislation.

- (c) Hearsay in criminal proceedings (November 2009) (see item 51 in the Table)

DoJ briefed the Panel on 27 March 2017 on key features of a working draft Bill, and released a Consultation Paper on the Evidence (Amendment) Bill 2017 on 21 April 2017 to seek the views of the legal professional bodies, the Judiciary and other stakeholders. The consultation period ended on 31 July 2017. DoJ received 11 submissions, most of which supported the proposal. DoJ briefed the Panel on 26 February 2018 to update Members on the outcome of the consultation exercise and the proposed way forward. Members supported the plan to introduce the proposed statute into LegCo. The draft bill is being refined taking into account the result of the consultation. DoJ aims to introduce the bill into LegCo in this legislative session.

- (d) Enduring powers of attorney: personal care (July 2011) (see item 53 in the Table)

Having convened meetings of an inter-departmental working group to examine the recommendations in the report, DoJ launched a public consultation on a draft bill on 28 December 2017 and briefed the Panel on the consultation on 22 January 2018. The consultation period ended on 28 April 2018. DoJ will brief the Panel on the result of the consultation as well as the proposed way forward on a date to be advised. Subject to the result of the consultation, it is planned that proposed statute will be introduced into LegCo in the 2018/19 legislative session.

¹ Meanwhile, LWB will work out the major provisions of the proposed legislation for the public's reference so as to enhance their understanding of the parental responsibility model in legal terms. LWB also hopes to clarify the doubts on the practical impact of the legislative proposal on divorced families, including parents and their children.

- (e) Double jeopardy (February 2012) (see item 54 in the Table)

DoJ is prepared to take forward all the recommendations and will work out details of the legislative amendments in consultation with the stakeholders. DoJ is preparing a draft bill for the purpose of consultation with the legal professional bodies, the Judiciary and stakeholders.

- (f) Class actions (May 2012) (see item 55 in the Table)

DoJ has established a cross-sector Working Group to study and consider the proposals of the report. The 21st meeting of the Working Group was held on 16 March 2018. In addition, a sub-committee of the Working Group ("Sub-Committee") has been formed to assist the Working Group on technical issues that might arise during its deliberations on the subject matter. The Sub-Committee held its 28th meeting on 9 February 2018. The Government will map out the way forward in the light of the recommendations to be made by the Working Group.

- (g) Third party funding for arbitration (October 2016) (see item 35 in the Table)

This report was implemented by the Arbitration and Mediation Legislation (Third Party Funding) (Amendment) Ordinance 2017 (6 of 2017) (June 2017).

Before the relevant provisions come into operation, an advisory body will be established to monitor and review the future operation of those provisions. At the same time, to ensure that safeguards are in place for funded parties in arbitration and mediation, an authorized body to be established will, in accordance with the relevant provisions in the Arbitration Ordinance and the Mediation Ordinance, consult members of the public before issuing a code of practice with which third party funders are expected to comply.

Concluding remarks

5. SJ and the LRC are conscious of the need to follow up closely on the implementation of proposals made by the LRC. Indeed, progress of implementation of the LRC proposals is now made a regular item of the LRC's meetings so that members of the LRC can monitor the situation. SJ will continue to closely follow up on the progress with all relevant bureaux and departments.

(b) Proposals implemented in part

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
36	Arrest (November 1992) Security Bureau	The Bureau has advised: "More than half of the endorsed recommendations have been implemented. The Bureau is still reviewing some of the proposals in the light of the changes in UK's Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 and local enforcement experiences with a view to determining the way forward."
37	Insolvency - Part 3: Winding-up provisions of the Companies Ordinance (July 1999) Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau	Some technical aspects were implemented by the Companies (Amendment) Ordinance (28 of 2003) enacted in July 2003 amending Cap 32. Having reviewed the key issues addressed in the report and taking into account the sector's latest developments, the Bureau has concluded: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● "not to pursue the recommendation to merge corporate insolvency legislation with personal bankruptcy legislation as there is no clear benefit or market demand for such a change; ● to continue to rely on established professional sectors to deliver private sector insolvency services, rather than establishing and upkeeping a statutory licensing system at this time, as the latter is considered to be not cost-effective; ● on remuneration (fees) of office-holders, the market has operated smoothly in determining the fee level of private sector insolvency services, with disputes settled by the Court's Taxing Masters, and there is no need to establish an adjudication panel arrangement to determine fees; ● the concern that Official Receiver's Office (ORO) should be adequately funded is noted. ORO's funding bids, including additional resources as and when necessary, will continue to be processed in accordance with the Administration's well-established policies and procedures." With respect to the other technical amendments recommended in the subject LRC Report, the

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
		Bureau has advised that they are addressed by the Companies (Winding-up and Miscellaneous Provisions) (Amendment) Ordinance 2016, which has come into operation on 13 February 2017 to improve and modernise Hong Kong's corporate winding-up regime.
38	The regulation of debt collection practices (July 2002) Security Bureau	The recommended review of the then limitations imposed on the collection and use of 'positive credit data' was implemented without legislation by the Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data in the Code of Practice on Consumer Credit Data 2002. The Report's other recommendations were rejected by the Administration in September 2005.
39	Description of flats on sale – Part 3: Local completed residential properties: Sales descriptions and pre-contractual matters (September 2002) Transport and Housing Bureau	The recommendations in respect of completed properties sold first-hand by the original developer were implemented by the Residential Properties (First-hand Sales) Ordinance (Cap 621) (19 of 2012) (July 2012) which regulates the sales of completed and uncompleted first-hand residential properties. The Bureau has stated that: "The regulation of the sales of second-hand local residential properties is strengthened with the assistance of the Estate Agents Authority (EAA). The EAA has required, among other things, that estate agents must provide information on the saleable area, if available from Rating and Valuation Department (RVD) or the first agreement, of second-hand residential properties to prospective purchasers with effect from 1 January 2013."
40	Guardianship and custody – Part 3: The family dispute resolution process (March 2003) Home Affairs Bureau	The Bureau has stated that: "With the implementation of the Civil Justice Reform, legal aid has been extended to cover mediation in civil proceedings since 2009. Between 2 April 2009 and 30 April 2018, the Legal Aid Department has approved funding for appointment of mediators in 1109 matrimonial cases. In May 2012, the Judiciary issued a Practice Direction on Family Mediation which sets out the duty of the parties and their legal representatives to assist the Court

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
		in encouraging the parties to use mediation as an alternative dispute resolution procedure. Furthermore, a Practice Direction on Children's Dispute Resolution Pilot Scheme has come into effect since October 2012 and has been formalised as standard practice since April 2016. Parents wishing to seek mediation may approach the Integrated Mediation Office set up by the Judiciary for assistance. A Practice Direction on a new pilot scheme for private adjudication of financial disputes in matrimonial and family proceedings has also come into effect since 19 January 2015. The scheme is a new mode of alternative dispute resolution, which aims at furthering the objective of settlement facilitation. The research team commissioned by the Family Council completed a study on the provision of family mediation services in Hong Kong in late 2016. The study confirmed the positive effects of mediation in resolving divorce-related disputes and made a series of recommendations. The Family Council has shared the study findings and recommendations with relevant bureaux/departments and organisations for their reference and follow up actions as appropriate."
41	Privacy – Part 6: The regulation of covert surveillance (March 2006) Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau	The Interception of Communications and Surveillance Bill was introduced prior to publication of the LRC report in March 2006 to regulate the conduct of interception of communications and the use of surveillance devices by public officers; and to establish the Office of the Commissioner on Interception of Communications and Surveillance to oversee the compliance by four law enforcement agencies with the relevant requirements. The bill was passed on 6 August 2006 as Ordinance 20 of 2006 (Cap 589). See also items 42 and 45 below.

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
42	Privacy - Part 2: Interception of communications (December 1996) Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau	The Interception of Communications and Surveillance Bill was passed on 6 August 2006 as Ordinance 20 of 2006 (Cap 589) to regulate the conduct of interception of communications and the use of surveillance devices by public officers; and to establish the Office of the Commissioner on Interception of Communications and Surveillance to oversee the compliance by four law enforcement agencies with the relevant requirements. The Bureau stated in the 2015 report to the AJLS Panel on LRC reports' implementation that: "The Bureau considered the LRC report on this topic, together with 4 others on Stalking; Privacy and media intrusion; Civil liability for invasion of privacy; and Regulation of covert surveillance. These 5 reports touch on the sensitive and controversial policy and political issue of how to strike a balance between protection of individual privacy rights and freedom of the media. There were mixed responses and very divergent views from different sectors of the community. Given the complexity and sensitivity of the policy and political issues involved, the Bureau would consider the 5 reports as and where appropriate and map out the way forward in consultation with relevant parties." The Bureau has advised that it has taken steps to deal with the LRC report on Stalking. See item 45 below.
43	Conditional fees (July 2007)	The Report recommended, inter alia, the expansion of the Supplementary Legal Aid Scheme by raising the financial eligibility limits, and increasing the types of cases covered by the Scheme. The financial eligibility limits were raised in May, 2011, and the types of cases were expanded in November 2012. Report's other recommendations were rejected by the Government in October 2010.

(c) Proposals under consideration or in the process of being implemented

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
44	Insolvency - Part 2: Corporate rescue and insolvent trading (October 1996) Financial Services and the Treasury Bureau	The Bureau has advised that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Having reviewed the proposals put to the Legislative Council in 2000 and 2001 (which lapsed on both occasions), the Bureau conducted a public consultation in late 2009 on the conceptual framework and a number of specific issues relating to the corporate rescue procedure and insolvent trading provisions, and issued consultation conclusions in July 2010. Since then, the Bureau has reviewed some of the more contentious issues of the proposals and considered in detail other key issues which were not discussed in the 2009 consultation exercise. ● The Bureau announced a package of legislative proposals for the introduction of a statutory corporate rescue procedure and insolvent trading provisions in 2014 and received broad support of the Financial Affairs Panel of the Legislative Council and relevant stakeholders to the legislative exercise. ● The Bureau issued the Drafting Instructions and will continue to engage relevant stakeholders throughout the drafting stage. The target is to introduce the bill into the Legislative Council within the 2018/19 legislative year.
45	Privacy – Part 3: Stalking (October 2000) Constitutional and Mainland Affairs Bureau	The Bureau has stated: "The Bureau decided to deal with the LRC report on Stalking first and launched a public consultation on the recommendations from December 2011 to March 2012. In the light of the concerns and divergent views expressed over the implications that the LRC's recommendations would have on constitutional rights including freedom of the media and freedom of expression, the Bureau

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
		commissioned the Centre for Comparative and Public Law of the University of Hong Kong ("the Consultant") to study the experience of overseas jurisdictions in implementing their anti-stalking legislation and reported the findings and the Consultant's recommended formulation to the LegCo Panel on Constitutional Affairs ("the CA Panel") in December 2013. Some Members of the CA Panel continued to express strong reservations on the enactment of a piece of stalking legislation and counter-proposed that a 'specified relations' approach be further explored. The Bureau has since sought the views of stakeholders who had submitted written views in the 2011/12 consultation, including the Hong Kong Bar Association and the Law Society of Hong Kong. After considering the feedback obtained and input from the Department of Justice, it is clear that none of the various formulations (ie, LRC's, the Consultant's and the 'specified relations' approach) is supported by CA Panel Members, the major stakeholders or the public, as being able to achieve the objective of providing protection to all people alike against stalking while at the same time avoid inflicting interference to the freedoms of the press and expression. The above being the case, the Bureau is of the view that there are no favourable conditions to pursue the matter further and sought the views of the CA Panel accordingly on 16 June 2014. At that Panel meeting, some Members expressed support for not pursuing the LRC's recommendations. Regarding the 'specified relations' approach, Members noted the in-principle difficulties with this approach and that since the LRC report was published in 2000, individual pieces of legislation have indeed been amended or administrative measures taken to better control harassment in domestic, landlord-and-tenant, and money lender-borrower relationships, and no Member requested further pursuing such an approach.

	Report (month and year of publication) - Responsible Bureau, where report not yet implemented	Implementing legislation/ or other relevant information, including response from the relevant bureau or department
		The Bureau will take into account the opinion of LegCo Members and stakeholders and monitor related developments in considering the way forward."
46	Contracts for the supply of goods (February 2002) Commerce and Economic Development Bureau	The Commerce and Economic Development Bureau has advised that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● It agrees that the implied undertakings for all types of contracts for the supply of goods should be standardized and that legislative amendments should be introduced to extend to contracts for the supply of goods the implied undertakings which currently apply in respect of contracts for the sale of goods. ● To enhance consumer protection, the Bureau completed the legislative exercises in 2012 to tighten the prohibition against pyramid schemes and to amend the Trade Descriptions Ordinance (Cap 362) to tackle unfair trade practices. The amended Cap 362 came into full operation in July 2013. ● The research of the Bureau has shown that there have been significant changes to some relevant overseas legislation (e.g. that in Australia and New Zealand) to which the LRC Report had made reference and on which the LRC's recommendations were based. Further examination of the updated overseas legislation and the implementation is being conducted. ● The Bureau has stated that: "The examination is ongoing. As this is taking longer than expected, it is hoped that the examination could be completed as soon as practicable. Based on such examination and research, and subject to other prevailing competing policy priorities, the Bureau will further consider how legislative proposals should be formulated and the timing of public consultation."

49	Guardianship and custody – Part 4: Child custody and access (March 2005) Labour and Welfare Bureau	A total of 72 recommendations were made on the arrangements in relation to child custody and access, including that Hong Kong should follow jurisdictions such as England and Wales and Australia in applying the parental responsibility model to family law. Some of the recommendations of the report will fundamentally change the concept of "custody" underpinning the existing family law and have far-reaching implications. In consultation with the Department of Justice, the Home Affairs Bureau, the Social Welfare Department, the Judiciary and other relevant Government Bureaux/Departments, the Labour and Welfare Bureau has prepared the draft Children Proceedings (Parental Responsibility) Bill (the proposed legislation) to follow up the majority of the LRC recommendations. On 25 November 2015, the Bureau launched a four-month public consultation on the proposed legislation. The Bureau advised that "the recommendation to reduce the minimum age of marriage without parental consent from 21 to 18 (Recommendation 69) and the recommendation that a list of circumstances should be set out in the legislation to determine when it is appropriate to appoint a separate representative for a child in children proceedings (Recommendation 50) will be dealt

		with separately." The public consultation ended on 25 March 2016. The Bureau reported the results of the consultation to LegCo Panel on Welfare Service (LegCo Panel) in May 2017. The results showed that the percentage of views in support of the implementation of the proposed legislation at this stage was about the same as that opposing it (i.e. 34.5% on each side), while another 20% of the views considered the proposed legislation worthy of support in principle, but requested additional resources and support measures as a prerequisite. Besides, the Bureau also noted that two motions were unanimously passed by the LegCo Panel on 22 February 2016 and 8 May 2017 respectively, requesting the Government not to introduce the proposed legislation into the LegCo at this stage, pending the provision of more support measures for divorcing/divorced/separated families. Similar requests were also raised by deputations at the special meeting of the LegCo Panel held on 4 October 2017. Having regard to the views collected during the public consultation and the LegCo Panel's position, the Bureau proposed at the LegCo Panel meeting on 12 March 2018 not to introduce the proposed legislation into the LegCo at this stage. However, the Bureau proposed to, as a matter of priority, increase resources in 2018-19 to strengthen measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families, so as to promote the concept of continuing parental responsibility towards children even after divorce, and strengthen co-parenting counselling and parenting coordination service, as well as making the Pilot Project on Children Contact Service a regular service of the Social Welfare Department with service expansion. Meanwhile, the Bureau will work out the major provisions of the proposed legislation for the public's reference so as to enhance their understanding of the parental

		responsibility model in legal terms. The Bureau also hopes to clarify the doubts on the practical impact of the legislative proposal on divorced families, including parents and their children. As soon as the enhanced measures to support divorcing/divorced/separated families have been implemented, the Bureau will consult the stakeholders again on the proposed legislation, and gauge their receptiveness to the legislative proposal, especially the views of those who have put service improvements as a prerequisite to legislation.
50	Substitute decision-making and advance directives in relation to medical treatment (August 2006) Food and Health Bureau	The Bureau has stated that: "The outcome of the public consultation launched in 2009 indicates that while the respondents generally are not opposed to introducing the concept of advance directives as a personal decision, there is no clear consensus or public support for promoting the concept by way of legislation. In July 2010, the Hospital Authority (HA) issued the Guidance for HA Clinicians on Advance Directives in Adults which provides guidelines to HA frontline staff to deal with terminal care in an amicable manner under relevant circumstances. The Guidance was updated in July 2016. In January 2016, HA updated the HA Guidelines on Do Not Attempt Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR), extending the Guidelines to non-hospitalised patients with advanced irreversible illnesses. This facilitates the clinical staff to honour an advance directive refusing CPR of a non-hospitalised patient. While there appears to be more receptiveness toward the information provided and more willingness among the patients and the community to discuss terminal care and the concept of advance directives, there is no substantial change in attitude in the community towards promoting advance directives through legal means. The Bureau considers it more advisable to implement advance directives by way of legislation when there is a greater degree of awareness and consensus over the use of advance directives and that the community is

The purpose of the research is to enhance the quality of healthcare for the elderly and is expected to inform policy in response to the challenge of the ageing population in health care, which also include healthcare services supporting elderly people with chronic diseases and quality of end-of-life care. The research will also analyse the implementation of Advance Directives and provide recommendations on changes in the legislation required and measures to deal with the ethical and cultural issues. The research team will propose a public education on publicity plan and strategy to promote understanding and acceptance of the concept of Advance Directives. The research study will also look into the definition of "mentally incapacitated persons" under the Mental Health Ordinance (Cap 136) in the context of facilitating better end-of-life care. The Bureau will decide on the way forward regarding whether necessary changes have to be made to the Mental Health Ordinance after completion of the CUHK's research."

56	Charities (December 2013) Home Affairs Bureau	The Bureau has stated its stance to be: "The recommendations of the LRC Report on charities are relevant to the purviews of various Government bureaux and departments. Since many recommendations in the LRC Report carry significant implications on charities in Hong Kong in terms of their definition and operation, the Government needs to consider the recommendations thoroughly and carefully. The Bureau has been assigned to co-ordinate inputs from relevant bureaux and departments in formulating a response to LRC's recommendations for the Government's overall consideration. The Bureau is actively following up the co-ordination with a view to formulating a response for the Government's consideration as soon as possible. In this process, the Bureau will make reference to the improvement measures recommended in the Director of Audit's Report No 68 (Audit Report) as well as in the Public Accounts Committee Report Nos 68 and 68A (PAC Report) when co-ordinating inputs from relevant bureaux and departments. Meanwhile, the Government notes the concerns in the community over the accountability of charities, in particular that of charitable fund-raising activities. The Bureau is co-ordinating with relevant departments to explore feasible administrative measures by making reference to the recommendations in the LRC Report, the Audit Report and the PAC Report, with a view to enhancing the transparency of charitable fund-raising activities and safeguarding the rights and interests of donors." considering the LRC's recommendation and will review the Government's overall position thereon.

58	Adverse possession (October 2014) Development Bureau	The main recommendations are that the existing provisions on adverse possession should be retained since they offer a practical solution to some of the land title problems, while the law of adverse possession should be recast under the prospective registered land system in Hong Kong by introducing a notification scheme under which the registered owner will be notified if a squatter of registered title land applies for registration after 10 years' uninterrupted adverse possession. Other recommendations recommended changing or clarifying the law as laid down in three Court of Final Appeal cases. Another recommendation sought to clarify the common law applicable to Hong Kong. The Bureau has stated its stance to be: "The Government has noted the LRC's recommendations set out in its report on adverse possession published on 20 October 2014. Since the recommendations carry significant implications on the land system of Hong Kong and inevitably involves complicated issues in various aspects such as legal, land ownership, conveyancing and land management, the Government needs to consider them carefully. The Bureau, in conjunction with the Lands Department and the Land Registry, is actively studying those recommendations that are relevant to the Bureau for mapping out the way forward."

The conclusion was that the proposed regulatory scheme would not be effective, as it would apply to estate agents only, not the vendors of overseas residential properties. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● The LRC Report was prepared at a time when there was a surge in the volume of sales of non-local residential properties in Hong Kong, most prominently the sales of uncompleted residential properties situated in the Mainland. Malpractices, insufficient information available to purchasers and projects where construction works were not completed were common at the time. Given the outcome of the EAA's research on the effectiveness of the proposed regulatory scheme, instead of implementing the recommendations as set out in the LRC Report, the Bureau adopted an alternative approach, under which the EAA and the Consumer Council stepped up their public education efforts to raise the awareness of the public on the risks of purchasing uncompleted residential properties situated outside Hong Kong." The Bureau further observed that: "The result of stepping up public education efforts has been very positive. Complaints about the sales of uncompleted residential properties situated outside Hong Kong have virtually diminished over the years. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● In light of this, the need for legislation to regulate the sales of non-local residential properties in Hong Kong does not seem imminent. ● Regulating the sales of non-local residential properties conducted in Hong Kong involves complicated issues and requires careful consideration. 64	Civil liability for unsafe products (February 1998) Commerce and Economic Development Bureau	A 'strict liability' regime is recommended to give an additional basis for aggrieved parties to seek compensation for injuries and damages arising from unsafe products. When the then Trade and Industry Panel of the LegCo was consulted in 1999, strong objection to the proposal was raised from trade representatives. Some considered it unfair to hold a party, such as an importer, liable if that party did not have full control over the safety of the product, while others were concerned about the likely increase in litigation and compliance costs. The Bureau has stated its stance to be: "As the community is unlikely to reach any consensus on this matter in the near future, the Bureau does not intend to take forward the LRC's proposal at this juncture."
