

Mr Vod K S CHAN

Mr Chan is a practicing barrister with Chambers of Ronny Wong, S.C., and an accredited general mediator of the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre (HKIAC) as well as Hong Kong Mediation Accreditation Association Ltd (HKMAAL).

On the litigation side, he represents clients in a vast array of adversarial matters which focus mainly on civil litigation involving various disputes. Examples are those over a piece of cross-border land, a novel point of property title, a pharmaceutical patent, an international employment, and control of a listed company as well as matters of commercial disputes. He also regularly acts as an advocate in mediation such as personal injuries and family-related disputes.

Also, he mediates a diversity of disputes involving, inter alia, elements of commercial/corporate matters, directors/shareholders, property/land, incorporated owners, building management, trading/shipping, personal injuries, insurance/subrogation, discrimination, defamation, professional negligence, IP rights, or NGOs.

Mr Chan also delivers mediation talks frequently to a broad spectrum of non-profit making organisations and academic institutions as well as those in the private sector. He is also frequently invited to act as a trainer as well as a coach in various mediation courses, plus to act as an assessor for the then HKIAC's and now HKMAAL's accreditation of general mediators. He has published articles on mediation in Hong Kong Lawyer and South China Morning Post.

He sits on both the Hong Kong Bar Association's Special Committee on Alternative Dispute Resolution and the Hong Kong Mediation Council (HKMC) of HKIAC, and is chairperson of the General Mediation Interest Group of HKMC.
