THE HONG KONG MEDIATION ORDINANCE

—In a Nutshell—

The Mediation Ordinance provides a territory-wide legislative framework for all professional mediation conducted in Hong Kong. It has far-reaching application and consequences for all people who find themselves involved in mediation as parties or professionals. The workshop will examine the practical application of the Ordinance through illustrations and case law. Find out what the Mediation Ordinance means for you — whether you are a lawyer, mediator, party or anyone else involved in a mediation.

The Secretary for Justice, the Honourable Mr Rimsky Yuen, former Chair of the Mediation Ordinance Committee of the Mediation Taskforce, will open the workshop. The presenter, Professor Nadja Alexander is an international authority on the law of mediation. Her latest book, Hong Kong Annotated Statutes: Mediation Ordinance (Cap 620), CCH 2013, will be launched during the workshop.

The workshop is part of Mediation Week (20-26 March 2014), organized by the Department of Justice and supported by various stakeholders.
